Preparation Participants pre-register for the course by completing the registration form found on our website. After reception of this form confirmation of pre-registration will be sent as well as a questionnaire concerning participants' education and teaching experience. This questionnaire will be used for a needs analysis in order to adapt the course schedule to the needs of the participants. After registration, participants will receive bibliographical and other information material about the course contents as well as information about accommodation.

Participants should have basic PC skills - MS Word, email and internet software and basic knowledge of digital cameras.

Objectives The aim of the course is to show foreign language teachers how to create their own audiovisual teaching material. The course is of special interest to teachers of lesser taught languages who do not have a wide range of materials at their disposal.

At the end of the course all participants will have

- learned how to create short audio/visual sequences using basic technical means such as a photo-camera, a microphone and a computer
- experimented with various types of audiovisual material and discussed their use in the classroom
- created a teaching unit using audiovisual material of their own making (work in groups)
- acquired information on interactive media and their use for encouraging and supporting learners' autonomy

Methodology The course is run in the form of workshops with trainers operating as guides and counsellors. In the first part of the course there will be a short methodological introduction and presentation of materials. Participants will then develop their projects working in groups. In the second part of the course there will be an introduction to film and video techniques after which participants will work in groups developing and finalizing their projects.

Follow-up Participants will be encouraged to stay in touch with each other after the course exchanging new ideas and their experience with the techniques and material presented in the course. It will be possible to install a blog for further communication and exchange of ideas and material. Future meetings and cooperation through European or other projects will be encouraged.
