CALL FOR PAPERS AND WORKSHOPS

In this edition we would like to explore both theoretical aspects and practical strategies to empower teachers dealing with plurilingualism in the CLIL classroom and schools, namely:

- Understanding plurilingualism through CLIL
- Pedagogical practices for fostering bilingual/ plurilingual learning
- Digital tools and resources for supporting intercultural/ plurilingual practices
- CLIL as an approach to support equity and social inclusion (e.g., migrant and refugee students).
- Research and classroom projects involving plurilingual and intercultural education

There are two formats for proposals: A paper presentation or a workshop. Workshops and presentations may be given in English or Portuguese.

Paper presentations (20 minutes presentation + 10 minutes discussion)

We welcome paper presentations which provide results of research, project outcomes, and teacher reflections on CLIL experience in relation to the Colloquium topics.
