

34th Annual APPI Online Conference 'Teacher & Learner Agency'

Date: 10-11 & 17-18 July 2021

Venue: Online

Key Topic of the conference 'Teacher & Learner Agency':

Agency has become a common recent topic in education research and conferences all over the world. Another edu buzzword? Decide for yourself!

In a nutshell, when applied to both teachers and learners agency means:

- the teachers' singular capacity to act as agents of change within their pedagogical environment with implications on their own professional identity, peers, students, and school at large - e.g.
- the choices they make in their classroom practice (methodologies, strategies, resources...) and the opportunities for significant learning they provide learners with;
- recognizing learners as active agents of their own learning, having choice and voice in it, being aware of their own strengths and weaknesses and self-regulating their progress, striving to gradually take full responsibility for their learning.

Do join us next July and learn more about agency and how to implement it in your classroom!
